

My husband and I purchased a CB radio at the tail end of the big CB craze several years ago. When we first bought it we used to do the usual things like talk to truckers on the freeways.

We soon found out that it was more fun to flash the truckers while driving by them. I'd show them my breasts and then maybe lift my skirt for them if I liked their looks.

These big truck drivers would always offer to fuck me... and I'd tell them 'Maybe someday'.

Well... after talking to my husband, we agreed that it was time.

It happened when we were driving on I-75 in Atlanta and I was doing my usual sexy voice over the CB airwaves. I started talking to this one trucker that we were about to pass. And as we passed him I put both feet onto the side back window and spread my legs to give him a good view. He almost lost control of his big rig.

We chatted for a minute after switching channels (I put up 8 fingers to let him go to channel 8), and then we followed him into a rest stop.

My husband and I parked beside his 18-wheeler. To my surprise, two truckers got out of the cab. I gave my husband a look, expecting him to leave... but he just had this big grin on his face.

We agreed to do it in the cab, and that my husband could watch. So I climbed in, stripped off all my clothes, and was ready.

The other trucker was the first to get undressed, and I immediately started sucking his huge cock. However, the cab of the truck was just a little bit too small to hold me and three other guys.

After looking around, we all decided that we could do it in front of the truck, since there wasn't anyone around and this would block the view from the road and parking lot.

The driver of the truck dropped his pants and leaned against the truck. I climbed out, stark naked, and started to suck on his dick.

The other driver, also naked, followed me out and started to ram his huge cock up my dripping pussy. This was the first time that I had ever been with two men at the same time, and I couldn't believe that one of them was not my husband and that it was almost in public.

My pussy started to hurt from the cock in my cunt, it was a lot larger than my husband's.

It was then that I saw my husband with our camera. He had his dick in one hand (jerking off) and the camera in the other, snapping away.

The driver of the truck then swapped places with his friend, and I could taste my own pussy juice on his great big cock. As he came his throbbing cock sent hot cum right down my throat.

I drank him for all that he was worth. He pulled out and my husband took his place. My husband came almost immediately.

I started getting dizzy from all this cum that I was swallowing. And then my body started to quiver as I started to climax. The driver could feel my pussy tighten up and that was all he needed to make him cum also he shot his hot sperm - felt like it was molten lava.

Afterwards I got dressed, gave them each a big come covered kiss good-bye, and then my husband and I went to look for the closest 1-hour photo developing shop (asking first if they minded developing X-rated film).
